By mail Thursday we received this notice: "The following parties from Bellefontaine were registered at the Young Hotel, Ada, September 18: A. Leonard, B. Pearce, J. H. Colton and A. Butler." The joke, we think, is on the visitors who went to hear the regular pastor, and found to their great disappointment that a stranger would fill the pulpit at both morning and evening services.

It remains a fact that no Bellefontaine Postmaster has ever been appointed through the recommendation of any County Executive or Central Committee. It would be manifestly unjust to have such a thing occur. It is not out of place to secure the recommendation of members of a committee, elected or appointed for other purposes, to dictate who the postmasters throughout the county shall be, would be a species of besonism that would soon be resented by the people of the various localities, and of the whole county. Mr. Campbell sought to secure the recommendation of all committees he could, and sought to prevent committee action against him, by defeating action by the committee, but in his first interview with Judge Warnock, in presenting his request to be appointed, he took position against Committee action, as a usurpation of power. The REPUBLICAN in all its history has fought against usurpations of power by Central and Executive Committees, as all our readers know, and we were taking no new ground, in our position in the late contest for the P. O.

In passing a crowd on the sidewalk he recognized James Winters, a comrade who enlisted with him in the Union army in 1861, and whom he had not seen for over forty years. The recognition was mutual, and the way they gave each other the glad hand, left no doubt in any one's mind that they had indeed returned to each other from other parts of the State; but he will make recognition in due time, for the many kind expressions and good wishes received.

The editor has been so busy receiving the congratulations of neighbors and friends for a few days over his appointment as Postmaster, that he has not had leisure to return thanks by letter to those who have written him from other parts of the State; but he will make recognition in due time, for the many kind expressions and good wishes received.

Mr. D. L. Scott is tearing down the old house on the corner of Sandusky and Elm streets and will put up a new home, two rooms of which will be occupied by his mother, Mrs. Sheldon, and her sister.

Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, one of the most noted ministers in the country, took a dose of the wrong medicine, Tuesday, and came near dying before medical assistance could arrive.

IT IS NOT SO

The Index stated yesterday that Col. Warnock had informed a friend, that he would not be a candidate for Congress for a third term. The story was published with such a flourish of trumpets, and was so industriously sent out from here to the dailies of the State, that it betrayed a motive which vitiated its credibility. We took no stock in it. We remembered that such worse stories were circulated against us personally, to compass our defeat in the post-office race, which had not the least iota of truth in them, and we judged that Col. Warnock was doubtless misrepresented, as we had been maligned. We therefore telephoned Col. Warnock and he replied that he had never said to any one that he would not be a candidate. He had said that he was tired of the quarrel in Logan county; that he had recommended Mr. Campbell, and would not change it; and that he was not dependent on his seat in Congress. But he did not say, and never had said that he would not be a candidate for a third term.

The Index shows itself a very swift witness, but not at all desirous of being a truthful witness. It very easily found Mr. Warnock by telephone, when it wanted to know if he had recommended Mr. Campbell. If it had desired to do Mr. Warnock justice, it could have found him again before publishing a report which it knows was published to injure him.

The people love fair play and they will not justify such injustice against any man; much less against a Representative of the district, a distinguished soldier, and a man of pure life and upright character.

Where the truth will avail to condemn a man, it is never necessary to resort to disreputable methods.

The story on its face bore the impress of its untruthfulness. If Col. Warnock had come to such a conclusion he would have announced it over his own name, and have sent word to his friends.

The Quartette Choir.

The Music Committee of the Methodist church were appropriated the sum of five hundred dollars at the beginning of the fiscal year and will make good use of it. Prof. J. W. Denny, the very efficient leader for the past year of the chorus choir, having tendered his resignation, it was decided to engage a quartet. The new choir will be as follows: Miss Lena Colton, soprano; Mrs. Jessie Fulton, alto; Mr. James Fulton, tenor; and Dr. C. N. Miles, basso. This will be a quartette of which the congregation may well be proud.

A Ripe Old Age.

Mr. Samuel S. Moss was 91 years old Wednesday, the 16th of September. He was born in Lynchburg, Virginia, in 1812, and has lived in Bellefontaine since 1858, bringing up his family in this city. Now in his declining years he resides with his daughter, Mrs. Isaac Moore, where he is tenderly cared for. He is the father of fifteen children, of whom seven are living; has had 41 grandchildren, 60 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Crushed Stone.

Quite a number of the property holders on Sandusky avenue favor crushed stone for the improvement. They object to the noise and increased cost of brick, and think the crushed stone is better for driving and better for horses. We think they are correct. If the macadam has a top covering of crushed boulders, and is set on with proper foundation and grade, it is as good a street as could be desired, and better for residence streets than brick.

Delaine Sheep.

A double-deck car load of Delaine rams and ewes was shipped to Salt Lake City, Thursday, by G. A. Henry, Braden Brothers, G. G. Horan and J. M. Shaw. The sheep are in the care of Mr. James Braden, who goes to Salt Lake, and will have them on market during the great Mormon convention, which meets yearly at that place, and representatives from all parts of the world are in attendance.

Trolley Party.

The W. E. C. ladies are making arrangements for a trolley party some time next week. They will charter a car for two hours, serve refreshments and have a jolly good time. Further notice will be given.

Preaching at Baptist Church.

Dr. G. L. Kalb will supply the Baptist pulpit, Sabbath morning and evening, under the auspices of the Ministerial Association.

Do you go to bed tired; get up tired; feel tired throughout the day? It's the waste of bodily tissue that is exceeding the supply. Hagee's Cordial not only stops the waste, but repairs the damage and supplies new, healthy, vigorous tissue. Pleasant to take.

CHURCH WEDDING

Happy Young Couple United in Marriage at the United Presbyterian Church.

In the United Presbyterian church at 7:30, Sept. 16th, the marriage ceremony uniting Mr. Guy Brooks, of Belle Center, and Miss Mary Dow, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dow, took place. The church altar, pulpit and choir loft were tastefully decorated in green and white, asparagus and white asters being used. A large arch of green and white was erected in front of the pulpit, underneath which the wedding party stood. Promptly at 7:30 sounded the sweet strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, played most beautifully by Miss Margaret Simpson, niece of Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Simpson.

The bridal party slowly moved to the altar preceded by the ushers, Messrs. George Gebby, Harry McLaughlin, Edward Wallace and Samuel Huffer, next came the maid of honor, Miss Madge Comrie, of Kenton, cousin of the bride, who appeared most charming in a gown of white silk with a train of white silk and over china silk. She carried a bouquet of maiden hair ferns and lilacs of the valley. Following her was the ring bearer, Angeline Young, youngest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Young, and the little flower girl, Margaret E. Alkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Alkin, who gracefully strewn flowers in the path of the bride. The bride leaning on the arm of her father followed, and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Rev. J. W. Liggitt, of Belle Center.

The ring ceremony was specially arranged by Dr. E. C. Simpson, the officiating minister, and was most impressive and solemn. At the conclusion of the church the bridal party left the church to the stirring and glorious strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, where they took carriage to the suburban home of the bride's parents, where an elegant reception was held.

The bride's gown was a beautiful creation of silk—mossin-de-ool over tulle. She carried a bouquet of ferns, her going away gown was blue broad cloth with which she wore hat and gloves of tan.

The happy couple received many beautiful and costly gifts expressive of the high esteem in which they were held by their many friends. They left on the knickerbocker amid showers of rice and best wishes, for Allegheny, Pa., where the groom is attending the Theological seminary of the United Presbyterian church.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Prof. and Mrs. Earle W. Dow, Ann Arbor, Mich.; Mrs. J. O. Day, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Comrie and Miss Madge Comrie, of Kenton; Mrs. Margaret Davenport, Ada; Mr. and Mrs. Smith Brooks, Messrs. and Misses Johnsons, Northwood; Walter Liggitt, Mrs. and Miss Ghaigo, Bellecenter; Rev. Gordon, Misses Nina and Anna Wallace, Rev. and Mrs. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Eiden, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Peoples, Mr. and Mrs. Ryan, Huntsville; Miss Rosa Butler, Jesse Johnson, D. D., and wife, Xenia; Misses and Mr. Robt. Danaway, Zanesfield.

Frost and Ice!

Our first frost came this morning, September 18. Grass was frozen stiff, and some ice formed. We don't think any damage was done on high grounds, except in bottom, vegetable, and fruit crops. Apples, plums, and corn that was green enough to not get in out of the cold was probably damaged. But the great bulk of the corn crop was beyond injury from such a freeze.

NO. 2.

Horton Pike Pulls Through By a Good Majority.

The Commissioners, on counting the petitions and answers on Horton Pike No. 2, found a majority of 28 in favor of the pike—the vote standing 28 for, to 153 against. Jas. Peoples, John B. Johnson, and S. M. McCracken were appointed assessing committee. The work of construction will not be commenced until next Spring, owing to the nearness of winter.

Quiet Home Wedding.

Mr. Forest Slater, of Cleveland, and Miss Florence M. Hoebuck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hoebuck, of this city, will be united in marriage here at the home of the bride Tuesday evening, September 20, by Dr. T. H. Campbell. Only members of the immediate families of the contracting parties will witness the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Slater will reside in Cleveland.—Bellefontaine Index.

Big Four Improvements.

The Big Four is preparing to put down $2 million of second track on the St. Louis division between Leona and Terra Haute, Ind. When this track is laid, 125 miles in the St. Louis division will be double-tracked. It is the intention of the company to eventually have all the St. Louis division double-tracked.

Presbytery.

The fall meeting of the Bellefontaine Presbytery will convene in Galion Monday evening, September 1. Judge J. D. McLaughlin is the delegate from the Bellefontaine church.

Mr. Max Kaufman, of the Auction Syndicate, has purchased the new house of Hamilton Bros., on the corner of Main and Williams. He has also leased the room occupied by his store for a term of ten years.

BEAUTIFUL WEDDING.

Miss Ella McLaughlin and Mr. Don Byron Swisher the Contracting Parties.

Two hundred guests assembled Wednesday, in Judge McLaughlin's home on East Chillicothe avenue to witness the marriage of Miss Ella McLaughlin to Mr. Don Byron Swisher. The ceremony was performed by Dr. G. L. Kalb, assisted by Rev. G. E. Davies.

A canopy of green from which were pendent white asters was arranged in the south parlor, beneath which stood the bridal party. Mr. Harry L. Bartholomew was the best man, and Miss Florence, a sister of the bride, the maid of honor.

Dainty little Miss Elizabeth Cowman and Master Robert Milroy had the pleasure of carrying the ribbons. The bride's gown was white silk mull over white silk, the veil of tulle, the bouquet, white roses; and the young girl never looked lovelier. Her going away gown was of brown velvet goods and the trimming of brown velvet.

The prevailing color of the decorations of the home was pink, with soft light shades of light. The bride's table with pink candles and quantities of pink asters made a most effective combination. The places at the table were marked with silver candlesticks bearing pink candles; in the center were a number of candelabra around a mirror, then a mass of asters in two shades of pink, completed the pretty picture. With Mr. and Mrs. Swisher were seated Mr. H. L. Bartholomew and Miss McLaughlin, Miss Maud Coulter, Mr. Alex Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spittle, Mr. L. J. Roebuck and Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCracken.

Mr. and Mrs. Swisher left on the Knickerbocker for the lakes and after their return will at once set up housekeeping on South Main street in the home that awaits them. Mr. and Mrs. Swisher are popular young people, as was attested by the many handsome gifts. Beautiful furniture, cut glass, quantities of fine linen, silver, bric-a-brac abundant. Their home will be a joy to the happy bride. The REPUBLICAN wishes the young couple much happiness in the new life.

WHO IS THE COMING MAN

To Fill the Methodist Episcopal Pulpit.

Just now the good people of the Methodist church are wondering who is to succeed Dr. T. H. Campbell who has been their faithful pastor for five years, and who is almost unanimously the first choice of the congregation. The Official Board of the church feel they cannot have Dr. Campbell. Their second choice would be Rev. O. R. Havighorst, of Findlay, but he gets $2500 a year and a manse and has not been five years in Findlay so they have no hope there. They would be well pleased with Mr. Elington of Kenton, but Mr. E. has only held that charge two years. Kenton wants him to return, and he wishes to return, so that puts Mr. Hollington beyond question. After our Methodist friends reached conference they heard Dr. F. A. Gould, of Mansfield highly spoken of and although he was a member of the Northern Ohio Conference, he had had his present charge seven years, so they hoped for sure to get him, but learned Wednesday that he had been assigned to a charge in New York State. And so it goes, and we await developments.

An Inspiring Scene.

A scene was presented to the large audience that filled the M. E. church last Sunday morning, such as has not been witnessed in Quincy for some years, and could but stir the emotions of all hearts. When the pastor gave the invitation to unite with the church, there came forth from all parts of the congregation, as if by some impulse, enough young people to fill the entire chancel rail, then a second row was formed, and in some places a third, until thirty people presented themselves for church membership. Twenty-six were received into full connection from probation and four were received on probation. All but two were young people.

The occasion was one of solemn joy to parents and grand-parents, whose children were among the number received. Sunday school teachers, and Junior League workers, who had assisted the pastor in training the young people of the church, were deeply moved, many were in tears; all hearts seemed to be touched and tendered by the manifest presence of God. Some of the fathers and mothers in Israel expressed their joy by shouts of praise.—Quincy Press.

The Post Office.

Mr. Campbell received official notice of his appointment by the President, Tuesday evening, and his official bond was sent to the Department, Wednesday. After it is approved, and his commission received, he will take possession of the office.

KINDLY WORDS

From the Urbana Citizen and Gazette.

Urbana Citizen. Upon his arrival home Monday Congressman Warnock announced his recommendation of J. Q. Campbell, of Bellefontaine, for postmaster of this city to succeed the late Wallace W. Roach.

It has been the general belief ever since Roach's death among Colonel Warnock's friends that Mr. Campbell would be appointed. The reason of this belief being founded in the fact that Campbell's friends were supporters of the Congressman at the time of his first nomination while the opposing faction of Logan county were opponents of the Colonel's. It was believed by many that Campbell should have been appointed instead of Roach a year ago, but time makes all things even.

The new postmaster-to-be is well known to the people of this county and the district. He has a record as a soldier of the rebellion that would do credit to any man; he has conducted a Republican paper in Logan county for many years, and has been an earnest enthusiastic Republican.

The only objection that could be raised to him was that he was a factionalist, but it is a significant fact that few men amount to anything in politics or anything else unless they do have opinions and battle for them. A man without a political habitation is so politics what the "weary-willie" is to society.

Death of William Downing.

Mr. William Downing, the well-known auctioneer, who recently died at Belle Center, was a son of Mr. Timothy Downing, deceased, who, during the war, and for many years, was the leading Republican of Stokes township. William was one of several sons of Timothy Downing who served in the war of the rebellion. Another son, was Mr. J. E. Downing, of our city. The family made an excellent record for patriotism and loyalty. Mr. William Downing was born November 14, 1838, and died September 8, 1903. He enlisted at Kenton, in the 82d Ohio, which served in some of the hardest battles and campaigns of the war. He was a member of the Duple church. He leaves a widow and eight children.
